PROFILE

I'm a creative web developer looking to find employment at a friendly company that values the ongoing improvement in the skills of their employees. I'm dedicated, hardworking, and I do my best work on every project. I enjoy the process as well as the end result. I am easily self-motivated and pride myself on my follow-through and time management. I'm a great listener and take feedback very well. I work well with others as a peer and/or leader.
